ME NEW DOMINION ASSASSINATION.

Trial of Whelan at Ottawa for the Assassing. tion of Thomas D'Arcy McGee-The Carpenrance of the Prisoner.

The trial of Whe can was resumed this morning. Detectives Culler, and Hess testified as to a conversation they he ard in jail between Whelan and Doyle, wherein Whelan acknowledged that he shot McGee. Turner testified to having several times heard Whelan threaten to take the life of McGee. Other witpesses gave evidence highly unfavorable to the prisoner. The case for the prosecution has closed. At six o'clock to-night the court adjourned until to morrow, when the defence begins. Whelan has lost the defiant air be assumed on the first day of the trial, and appeared anxious and vineasy. It is supposed that the case for the defence will occupy about week, and there is scarcely any doubt entertained of a conviction being obtained.

The Testimony of Lacroly for the Prosecution The following is the testim only of Lacroix, the chief witness for the prosecution in the case of Whelan, on trial in Ottawa for the assessination of Thomas on trial in Ottawa for the assassination of Thomas D'Arcy McGee:—

Jean Baptiste Lacroix's worn—I lived in Ottawa in the spring, in Gray Nen street; I know the Chandiere Flats, in the upper town; I had business there early in April; it was on a Monday night, between the 6th and 7th; I went there in the eventing and returned about half-past one in the morang; I took the regular coarse between the upper and lower towns; I know that street opposite the Parliament buildings; I cause along that street till I came to the Parliament buildings; I cause along that street till I came to the Parliament buildings; I cause along that street till I came to the Parliament buildings; and then crossed the street below. (At this stage it was found necessary to allow the witness to give his evidence in French—Mr. G. H. MacAulay being sworn to interpret.) I came along the straight road from the Chaudiere Flats till I came to the Parliament buildings, where I crossed; there was a large stone house; I was en the left sloe going down; there was a fence at the corner; there were houses near the fence; the fence was about a quarter of an nere before coming to the houses; saw a man dressed in black with a beaver hat on walking on the street; he was going towards the Chaudiere way and making for a door; the door was about half the distance of the fence and opposite a telegraph post; the man I saw was from twelve to fifteen yards from the door when I saw him first; I saw another person; he was from about seventeen to eighteen yards behind the first; he was on the opposite side from me, but on the same side as the other man in the rear left the sidewalk, got in the street and behind the first; he was on the opposite side from me, but on the same side as the other man in the rear left the sidewalk, got in the street and behind the first man; he came in rear of the first man and fired; the first man appeared to be trying to open the door; he was at the door when the shot was fired; the second man came round behind the first man fell out he s on being re-examined witness said the first man fell on the sidewalk.

He explained—The first man fell into the corner, then roiled round and on to the sidewalk; on returning, the second man made a turn round, as he had gone to fire at the man; on getting on the sidewalk he struck a small post, and called out "Jesus, Jesus;" he then got on the sidewalk, and at a little distance got into a gateway; I was standing at the doorway of a brick house hear the house; it was nearer the Sappers' Bridge than where the men were standing; the man who fired came a short distance towards me, but turned and struck the post; I was nearing the house at the time this transpired; when I saw this I started for home; I did not ross over; I was too much frightened; I was standing at the brick house; when the man who fired disappeared I started for home; he came within seven or eight yards of me before he turned and struck the post; I could distinctly see his face; I think the man did not see me; I have seen him since in the office of the jai; there were several others there; he was dressed in white trousers, black vest and dark coat and cap; I see the man here now quolnting to the prisoner; that is the man I saw: I did not say much about it till I had a conversation with Mr. Parent; I said nothing about it, as I did not know whether the man was dead or not; next morning I spent a short time working about my house, and then moved to the Flats, to the place of a man named Lafeur, near the small bridge crossing the creek; I then went to work with Mr. Harris, near the Chaudiere Falls, and below the Chaudiere bridge; I worked besides at the Deschene Rapids; it was called nine miles from the bridge; I went there to work; somebody brought me down; I was taken before a magistrate, and I believe since that time I have been in jall; it was about seven or eight days after the occurrence when I was brought before a magistrate; if mas two before the first examination that I went to Deschene Rapids; I don't expect to receive anything for my eviden in recognizing the prisoner.

To Mr. J. H. Cameron—I had been in Ottawa about eight or ten days before the shooting; I came from Rignad, about thirty-five leagues of; I am a married man; my wife was in Ottawa at the time; we both Rigand, about thirty-five leagues of; I am a married man; my wife was in Ottawa at the time; we both came together; I had been in Ottawa several times; for the past sixteen years I have been in the habit of working about Ottawa from time to time; I have worked during that time every year about this neighborhood; I know the sircets, although I don't know the names or the day of the murder; I had left home for my brother-in-law's in the afternoon and went straight to the Chandlere to get a house; id not get one that night; was with several people that afternoon; one of them is an uncle of mine; I was not positive company with most of them.

Onestion—What were Iyou doing till half-pest ten o'clock that morning? A. I was looking for work and for a house; I can't name any of those from whom I asked a house; I asked Mr. Baldwin for work and also Mr. Eddy; that was about five o'clock in the afternoon; I took my dinner before I left my house, and did not eat again till I returned; I did not take any supper; I recollect going into my uncle's in the afternoon; I went into other houses; but I can't tell the names; I had no watch, but saw clocks; I passed my uncle's door and asked if it was very late; he said that if was one or half-past one in the morning; I was most of the time in the streets, and asking in different houses; I did not neet anybody from there till I renched the Parliament building; I saw people coming down from the building; I can't tell what they were doing; they were standing still; it was opposite the first Parliament building that I turned down; i did not stop till I came to where I saw the man shot; I can't say how long a time had elapsed from turning the corner, about seven or eight yards, I saw the men; I stopped when I heard the shot fired and hid in the doorway; I was a little past the first man when the shot was fired, and I had not up to that time seen the features of these men; I never saw the face of the man who was shot; I can't tell was they show long a time had elapsed from turning the cor shot fired and hid in the doorway; I was a little past the first man when the shot was fired, and I had not up to that time seen the features of these men; I never saw the face of the man who was shot; I cannot tell whather the door was open or not where the noan was; the door where I hid myself was closed; I put my head close into the corner and hid myself; I was looking to the opposite side of the street; my back was to the door; the doorway in which I was concealed was about too to eleven yards nearer the Sappers' Bridge than where these men were; the man who fired the shot immediately turned and made off, walking fast, but not running; he turned nearer the Sappers' Bridge; I had only the one opportunity of seeing the man's face who fired the shot; the archway through which the man disappeared was on the opposite side from me; I remained there giour or five minutes after; I was too frightened to go over where the body was; he fell going forward on the doorway, and then fell over; I could see the door he was trying to get in; I saw him try to open it, but I did not see it; I had my feet on the first step of the door; I was hiding; whether it was higher than the sidewalk or not I can't tell; i met a man on what is called Parent sireet, on the other side of the church (French cathedral), but do not recollect meeting any horses; I do not know the Russell House; when I got home I saw those who were in the house; I said nothing next morning; It may have been on Wednesday; I first spoke of it to Mr. Laparre; I heard the reward spoken of, but not before that; I can't know how much the reward was; heard some say it was a large, and some that it was a small sum, but I knew nothing about it; I was in the Jail I heard about it; the only one I heard mention the reward the reward; I said to Laparre when he told me about the death, and remeaked it was a great pity such a man should be so soon killed; I told him that I had seen the hupper town; Laparre saying anything about the death, and remeaked it was a great pity such a man besides Penson, and there was no conversation about it was stopped before we got to the place and we walked up to it; I do not remember how being a seen to jali; I was first taken up staling a seen to jali; I was first taken up staling a seen to jali; I was first taken up staling a seen to jali; I was first taken up staling a seen to where the prisoner was it is corridor; i saw him in his scill before Law im down stairs; he was in his shirt sleeves. Our I did not notice how he was dressed; the prisoner was alone in his cell; I said it was difficult to recognize him in the state he was in at the time; I did not ask that he should be dressed in the same clothes that he was supposed to have had on that night; I saw one other prisoner there; I could recognize the prisoner's face and style of walk; I only had seen him the one evening and was trightened, and I said I recognized him, but asked that he should be put in the same way as on the night of the murder; I think it may have been Mr. Powell or somebody; it was an elderly man: he is governor of the jali; he told me to look at the outside and to go forward to where the water was; he told me to look into all the cells; took me to another cell; he then took me outside and asked me if the man was there; I said it would be difficult to know him in that half-dressed state; it was after that I saw him down stairs; it may have been about mild-day when he was first shown to me; it might be a couple of hours afterwards; he was then dressed in the same clothes as he had on on the night of the murder; I had already recognized him by his face and walk; I said it was difficult to recognize him because I did not like to say much about it to any one; know Cosgrove, of Buckingham; there were some people called; Barney Raus, of Penville, I used to know; Downey, of Hull, I know: Oliver Latour, of Hull, I can't recollect; perhaps I was taken twice to see the prisoner, and after being taken there the third time, have been there ever since; I never said to the prisoner named Brown man besides Penarabout it start against the field, as in scoring he showed the greatest degree of speed. He had the inside and got away with a slight advantage, which he increased going around the turn to three lengths, and at the quarter pole was five lengths in front, the two mares having broken up. Going down the backstretch, and while leading half a dozen lengths, Whalebone broke up, and before he recovered Fearless was at his wheel, the latter four lengths in front of Fanny. At the half-mile pole Whalebone led one length, Fearless three lengths ahead of the roan mare. Getting into the Flushing end Fearless broke up and fell in the rear, the roansmare trotting finely and overtaking Whalebone very rapidly. At the three-quarter pole he was one length ahead, Fanny second, three lengths in front of Fearless. On the homestretch Whalebone broke up twice, the roan mare once, and they came up head and head three lengths in front of Fearless, making a dead heat in

Second Heat .- The betting was about even on

2:5614.

Second Heat.—The betting was about even on Whalebone against the field. The trio had an even start and they all broke up before getting on the turn, but Whaleboue, being the first to recover, passed the quarter pole three lengths ahead of the roan mare, who was three lengths in front of Fearless. There was no change of places on the backstretch, Whalebone passing the half-mile pole two lengths shead of the roan, the bay mare four lengths further off. On the Flushing end the roan closed up and at the three-quarter pole she was at Whalebone's wheel. Coming into the homestretch they both broke up and were head and head all the way up. Fearless closing at every step. Just as they approached the score the roan mare broke up and went past the stand a trifle in front of Whalebone.

pronched the score the roan mare broke up and went past the stand a tride in front of Whalebone, Fearless one length behind. The judge—there was only one—declied this also a dead heat. Time, 2:55.

Third Heat.—Whalebone was still the favorite against the field. He took the lead at the start and was one length in front around the turn, Fanny second, Fearless on a run two lengths behind. At the quarter pole Whalebone led two lengths, and down at the old stand he was three lengths in advance of the roan mare, Fearless five lengths behind, having broken up a second time. The roan then began closing and at the half-mile pole was nearly up to Whalebone's wheel. The roan mare pressed her suit along the Flushing end, and at the three-quarter pole she was at Whalebone's flanks, Fearless three lengths behind, having done some sharp work after she left the half-mile pole. The struggle up the homestretch, although not very fast, was highly interesting. Whalebone maintained the slight advantage he had at the lower end of the stretch, winning the heat by half a length, the roan mare second, Fearless one length behind. Time, 2:584.

Fourth Heat,—Whalebone was now the favorite against the field at two to one. The horses had a good send-off and went around the turn head and head. Approaching the quarter pole the two mares broke up and Whalebone passed that point one length abearl of the roan, who was one length in front of Fearless. On the backstretch Whalebone broke up and the roan went to the front, closely followed by Fearless. On the backstretch Whalebone broke up and the roan men to the front, closely followed by Fearless. At the half-saile piole the roan mare led a length, Fearless one length in front of Whalebone. On the Fushing end Fearless went up and passed the roan finare for a moment, Whalebone broke up and the fide awardet her the heat of the length of the fide awardet her the heat of the length of the start poile was about three lengths behind. Time, 2:62½.

Fifth Heat.—The betting fraternity were extremely quiet

Al. "'JOHN BROUGHAM RECEIVES $2.00 FOR Al. his 'Novel' version of the 'Lottery of Life.'"—N. Y. Express. So says the Express, a paper reliable in all such matters. Now this is all very well as far as it goes; but which did not the Express tell its readers that the story in question the LOTTERY OF LIFE, is well worth $2.00, and more too in fact, is the most life-like and natural, both in language and conception, of any novel that has appeared in many yearsh free clitor might even have gone a siep farther still and instormed the world that the LOTTERY OF LIFE, by John Brougham,

A FLASH OF LIGHTVING, by Augustin Daly, and

RIEN FROM THE DEAD, by Hattle Hateful, now publishing in the FIRESIDE COMPANION, are the most interesting stories to be found in any paper; and finally that the FIRESIDE COMPANION is decidedly the best Family Story Paper in America. No paper in the country pays such high prices for stories as the FIRESIDE COMPANION (MICH.) Among the contributors may be found such distinguished names as John Brougham, Captain Mayne Reid, Augustin Daly, Lucy Randail Comfort, Capt. Carlcton, Hattle Hateful, Cory O'Lanus, Ac.

The price of the FIRESIDE COMPANION is 6 cents copy or $3 a year in advance.
